

I am totally opposed to further deregulation among broadcasting companies. As deversified as the Triangle area is, the programming in this area does not have one station that appeals to true music lovers who like blues, rock and roll, jazz, pop ALL ON ONE STATION. My age group (40's) grew up on music and we buy a lot of music, but someone is thinking that teenagers are buying music...they're just downloading it. I know of no one who really cares about music who can listen to any station for more than one hour in this area. Bring back intelligent programming from local people.
